

1 CHINESE VOICES IN THE BBC

Joseph Yen Chichu Liu

5th March, 3-5pm
Zizzi's, EIW IAT

YEN Hangtai - Joseph Yen - graduate of Beijing Foreign Languages Institute and worked in English language broadcasting for Radio Peking. He left China in the 1970s having fallen foul of the Cultural Revolution and then worked for the BBC World Service as Senior Producer and Language Supervisor, editor and broadcaster of news and current affairs, arts, literature and classical music programmes.

Chichu Liu - raised in Taiwan by parents born in Shanghai, he gained politics degrees from both National ChengChi University and University College London. He has worked for the BBC news team for 10 years and has extensive journalism experience in radio, online, multi-media, and social media platforms.

2 CHINESE DETECTIVE HEARS SOUND OF EAST

David Yip Beibei Wang

2nd April, 3-5pm
Zizzi's, EIW IAT

David Yip was born in Liverpool in 1951, the son of a Chinese seaman. He has worked in film, TV, theatre, radio in the UK and internationally (see davidyip.co.uk). He is best known for creating Detective Sergeant John Ho, in the 1980s TV series “The Chinese Detective”. Film credits include Indiana Jones and James Bond and is currently in Sky Atlantic’s Fortitude Series 2.

Beibei Wang - born in Xi’an in 1986, is a flamboyant percussionist in the UK. With double Masters Degrees at the Central Conservatory of Music (China) and the Royal Academy of Music (UK), she was in the top 50 Chinese musicians in China’s “Sound of East” project (2014), and was endorsed as Exceptional Talent by the Arts Council, England (2015).

3 CHINESE REAL ESTATE MEETS PHILANTHROPY

Lady Xuelin Bates TBC

7th May, 3-5pm
Zizzi's, EIW IAT

Lady Xuelin Bates is a philanthropist and property developer who has lived in the UK for almost 28 years. She is Chair of the Walk for Peace Charity Foundation and holds senior roles in a number of UK China business associations. She and her husband formed the Walk for Peace charity in 2012 and pledged to do charity walks every year to raise money for it – 12000 kms to date! She contributes actively to communication, business and understanding between British and Chinese people.

Please book your place now via Eventbrite
<https://sacu-chinacafe-2017.eventbrite.com>